

Early Childhood Iowa Monday Musings December 7, 2015 2015 Vol. 2, No. 45

Welcome to the ECI Monday Musings. It is a compilation of information, practical advice, training announcements, and/or success stories. Monday Musings is intended to disseminate information to Early Childhood Iowa Stakeholders in a timely fashion. (We may on occasion send out a separate email with information if it needs immediate attention or if for a specific audience.)

Please let us know if you have something you would like to contribute or have suggestions or comments at jeffrey.anderson@iowa.gov

A Conversation on Early Learning with Bright Spots in Hispanic Education via Google+ Hangout on Wednesday, December 16, 2015 at 2:00 pm EST.

As part of the 25th Anniversary Year of Action, the Initiative made a national call for Bright Spots in Hispanic Education and announced over 230 during Hispanic Heritage Month. To elevate the work, including promising practices, of these Bright Spots and learn from their experiences, the Initiative is hosting a series of public engagements, via Google + Hangout over the coming year.

These interactive sessions will provide an opportunity to hear from programs, models, organizations, or initiatives that are helping close the achievement gap, from cradle-to-career, for Hispanic students, and for discussing ways to continue moving the needle on progress for Latino students and families.

The next in the series of monthly Hangouts, will take place on Wednesday, December 16, 2015 from 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. eastern standard time and will focus on Early Learning and the Latino community.

Future Google +Hangouts are planned as follows:

- Post-secondary completion – January 20, 2016
- Family Engagement (Spanish) – February 17, 2016
- Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) Education - March 16, 2016
- Latino teacher recruitment – April 20, 2016

The Hangouts will be broadcast live from Washington, D.C. and viewers can participate via the Web stream, or by sending questions in during or in advance of the event through Google+, Twitter, Facebook or email.

For more information about the Google+Hangouts or the Bright Spots, please visit www.ed.gov/HispanicInitiative or send us an email at WHIEEH@ed.gov with "BrightSpot" in the subject line.

From Crawling to Walking

The Early & Elementary Education team at New America released a new report, "From Crawling to Walking: Ranking States on Birth - 3rd Grade Policies that Build Strong Readers" that measures states on a broad set of policy indicators that can help ensure children are on track to read on grade level by the end of third grade. The report and data visualization tool offer ideas on birth-3rd grade policies that support children's literacy development and rank all 50 states and Washington, DC on whether they have these policies in place.

RACE: Are We So Different?

Experience this highly personal and thought-provoking exhibition at the Science Center of Iowa October 10, 2015, through April 3, 2016.

People look different. Like a fingerprint, each person is unique. Each person represents a one-of-a-kind combination of their parents', grandparents' and family's ancestry - and every person experiences life somewhat differently than others. But are we so different?

This provocative exhibition investigates race and human variation using three primary themes: the history of the idea of race, the science of human variation and the contemporary experience of race and racism in the United States.

The exhibit includes:

- Interactive exhibit components
- Historical artifacts
- Iconic objects
- Compelling photographs
- Multimedia presentations

RACE: Are We So Different? is a project of the American Anthropological Association in collaboration with the Science Museum of Minnesota, funded by Ford Foundation and the National Science Foundation.

VISITING INFORMATION

Admission: Admission to the exhibition is included with SCI general admission ($12 for adults and $8 for children and seniors).

Group Visits and Diversity Training: SCI also has developed four group visit packages to provide diversity and inclusion training for groups of 20-250. View group visit packages and information

School Trips: School visits are only $2 through February 2016. Learn more about SCI School Visits

From Child Trends:

Fostering Early Brain Development

New videos for your organization

These new short videos from Child Trends offer powerful messages for parents and providers working with young children. They feature Dr. Dana Suskind summarizing research on topics such as why the first three years of life are so important, what we know about early brain development, how to help low-income parents, and more. We'd be happy to have you post them on your website. Just send us a note at staff@childtrends.org.

Watch them here.

Low-income families' private safety net

On Thursday, December 10th from 3 - 4 p.m. ET, the Self-Sufficiency Research Clearinghouse will host a webinar exploring how low-income families use the private safety net - assistance from family and friends - to make ends meet. Child Trends Senior Scholar Kristin Anderson Moore will moderate the discussion.
